

WHERE TO TURN In Connecticut When You Become Unemployed

INTRODUCTION

To view this document online go to <http://www.211ct.org/Search/Unemployment.pdf>.

2-1-1's Where to Turn in Connecticut When You Become Unemployed is intended to provide information on state, federal and local resources to help people who are unemployed and looking for jobs. We hope that the information in this guide provides information that will help you manage financially while unemployed, and help you become re-employed.

2-1-1 is Connecticut's free, confidential information, referral, and crisis intervention service. We are available by phone 24/7 from anywhere in Connecticut. Just dial 2-1-1 and a trained specialist will answer your call any time of day or night. 2-1-1 is a program of the United Way of Connecticut and the State of Connecticut.

CT WORKS ONE STOP CAREER CENTERS

List of CT Works Centers. (Or see the listings in this guide's appendices.)

All Connecticut Residents: Full service CT Works centers offer computerized job matching, assessment and employability planning, vocational counseling, job referral and placement, and labor market information. All job seekers may place their resumes into an employer-searchable database of resumes. The CT Works Career Centers have self-service job search support services including research materials, phones, fax machines, postage, personal computers, software to design and print resumes, and free access to the Internet for job search purposes. CT Works One Stops are a collaboration of state, regional, and local organizations.

Older Adults: MaturityWorks/Senior Community Service Employment Program, also known as Title V, is a federally funded program that matches low income older adults ages 55+ with jobs in the private or non-profit sector. List of Senior Community Service Employment Programs.

Many community based agencies also offer special job search assistance for older adults. List of community based job search programs for older adults.

People with Disabilities: EveryOne Works program offers assistive technology and job search assistance services to people with disabilities using the CTWorks Centers in Bridgeport, Stamford, and Ansonia. Services include interpreter services, benefits counseling and information on education and training programs, screen reader, magnification with speech, text to speech/OCR, word prediction, Braille translator, voice recognition, CCTV, TTY, height adjustable workstations, chairs, and keyboard trays, alternative keyboards and mouse systems.

Veterans: List of Local Veterans Employment Representatives \(LVER\) and Disabled Veterans Outreach Program Specialists - \(DVOP\). CT Works centers have specialized Local Veterans Employment Representatives (LVER) and Disabled Veterans Outreach Program Specialists (DVOP) to assist veterans with employment and training needs. Veterans are offered vocational guidance, case management, counseling services, and workshops on topics such as resumes/cover letters, job search, and using the Internet.

Ex-Offenders: All CTWorks centers offer job search services for ex-offenders; the Hartford and Bridgeport offices offer in-depth workshops and enhanced job search assistance.

Youth: CT WORKS Centers and community based agencies help youth prepare for and locate employment. List of government and community based programs for youth.

WIA - WORKFORCE INVESTMENT ACT

The WIA authorizes and funds training and employment programs and services to youth and adults who are disadvantaged because of education level, income level, age, criminal history, and other conditions, including Individual Training Accounts (ITA) for dislocated or disadvantaged workers. Some ITA eligibility requirements are determined by federal regulations, and others are determined by the local Workforce Investment Boards. Go to your local CTWorks One-Stop to inquire about all WIA programs. List of CT Works Centers.

 - List of Job Training programs.

PRE-JOB COACHING AND EMPLOYMENT PREPARATION SERVICES

The CT Works centers offer free workshops on resume preparation and interviewing. To see CT Works locations, click here.

Also, many nonprofit community based agencies offer help with resume writing, cover letters, dressing for the interview, and interviewing techniques and skills. These services are usually provided for no fee or for a nominal fee. To see 2-1-1's listings of community based agencies that offer workshops or one-on-one assistance with preparing for a job search, click here.

For a list of no fee or sliding fee career counseling programs click here.

Connecticut Libraries and JobNow

Many local libraries subscribe to the "JobNow" service. JobNow provides live interactive online help combined with online resources to guide job seekers through the necessary tasks to get a job. Here are a few of the included services:

- "Resume Lab" service – Library patrons can send their resume to a JobNow expert, and receive expert analysis within 24 hours.
- Live Interview Coaching - Connect with a live interview coach to brush up on interview skills.
- Easy-to-use, free Internet resources for job seekers, including personality and career assessments.

The JobNow service is free; the only requirement is a local library card. Check with your local library to see if they offer JobNow.

Private Employment Preparation Businesses

There are also many private businesses that, for a set fee, offer career counseling, resume preparation, and interview coaching services. To find these businesses, do an Internet search with the words "Career Counseling," "Career & Vocational Counseling," or "Resume Preparation," or look in the telephone book's Yellow Pages under the same categories.

For help preparing for a phone interview, do an Internet search with the words "Phone Interview." There are many suggestions and blogs on the Web with phone interview tips. Also, there is a private company in Connecticut, Phone Interview Pro that, for a set fee, offers practice phone interviews and assessment of your phone interviewing skills, and a book with phone interview tips.

Job search counselors can never guarantee that you will get a job; beware of false promises! To protect yourself, read the Federal Trade Commission's "Money Matters/ Jobs" pages: <http://www.ftc.gov/bcp/edu/microsites/moneymatters/jobs-loss.shtml>, including:

- Job Search Scams.
- What to do before buying a business or a franchise.
- Information about wealth-building seminars.

Also, before spending money, especially if up-front money is required, you may want to check with the CT Better Business Bureau, the CT Dept. of Consumer Protection, or the CT Attorney General's office to see if complaints have been filed. If you feel that you have been cheated or scammed, file a formal complaint with these agencies. Once a pattern of deception is established, the State Dept. of Consumer Protection will investigate the business to see if it has violated the Unfair Trade Practices Act.

JOB CLUBS

This guide was prepared in January 2009. For updated information or for additional resources, please call 2-1-1 or go to <http://www.211ct.org/referweb/>

Networking and support for individuals who are looking for employment. Support may be group or individually based.

MINORITY BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT

Specific information for minorities and women who want to start a business. Guidance and information topics include loan and grant information, management practices, technology information, regulations, networking etc. Some programs charge fees.

- List of Minority Business Development programs.

INTERVIEW CLOTHING

There are several agencies in Connecticut that offer career clothing to individuals to wear to their job interviews. Some programs require a referral from a job training program, a state worker or other professional

List of agencies that offer Work Clothing.

Thrift shops sell used clothing at low prices.

- List of Thrift Shops.

Consignment shops also sell used clothing at low prices. For lists of consignment shops, check the phone book's yellow pages.

EMPLOYMENT SCAMS

People who are looking for work may be targeted by businesses or individuals taking advantage of their situation. They may promise employment results, promote fictitious or outdated job offerings, or otherwise misrepresent their services. In addition, they can charge high advance fees, ranging from several hundred to several thousand dollars, for their services or supplies you need before beginning work.

Beware of requests for personal information, such as Social Security numbers or credit scores, from companies that promise to help you find a job. These may be attempts at identity theft or credit fraud. Also beware of any business that requires you to invest or pay for costs in advance.

To learn how to avoid a job search scam or to check on a business's legitimacy, go to the Federal Trade Commission's tip sheet:

<http://www.ftc.gov/bcp/edu/microsites/moneymatters/jobs-hunting-scams.shtml>

WORK-AT-HOME SCHEMES

Work-at-home schemes usually promise lucrative results for working at home, but require upfront payment for materials and other costs with little or no return. Some of the typical work-at-home schemes and their usual pitches and pitfalls are detailed by the Federal Trade Commission here: <http://www.ftc.gov/bcp/edu/pubs/consumer/invest/inv14.shtml>.

TEMPORARY EMPLOYMENT

To find temp agencies, look in the phone book's yellow pages under the category "Employment Agencies," or go to: <http://www.yellowpages.com/CT/Employment-Agencies>

Some temp agencies, such as Labor Ready, specialize in day labor and pay workers at the end of each work day. This is a good option for unskilled workers who need to be paid quickly.

VOLUNTEERING

While job hunting, you may want to explore other careers, work on skills, participate in community service activities, or just widen your network of contacts by volunteering. To find volunteer opportunities in your community, search the Volunteer Solutions database, or go to 2-1-1's listing of agencies that need volunteers.

HEALTH CARE WHEN YOU LOSE YOUR JOB

There may be additional resources in addition to the ones listed here to help defer the cost of uncovered health care expenses for specialized populations such as those with cancer, veterans, etc. Call 2-1-1 to find out if there are any specialized assistance programs that fit your situation.

Also see 2-1-1's HEALTH CARE RESOURCE GUIDE

COBRA (CONSOLIDATED OMNIBUS BUDGET RECONCILIATION ACT)

www.dol.gov/dol/topic/health-plans/cobra.htm

COBRA is a federal law that requires employers with 20 or more employees to let employees and their dependents keep their group health coverage for a time after they leave their group health plan under certain conditions. Those conditions include voluntary or involuntary job loss, reduction in the hours worked, transition between jobs, death, divorce, and other life events. Once your job ends, your plan must provide you with written notice explaining your rights under COBRA. You have 60 days from the date the notice is provided or from the date coverage ended – whichever is later – to elect COBRA coverage. It begins the day your health care coverage ended and lasts for up to 18 months. Under COBRA you may have to pay the entire group rate premium for health care coverage.

For more information about COBRA, call the United States Department of Labor: (866)275-7922.

COBRA SUBSIDY FOR THOSE LOSING JOBS BETWEEN 9/1/08 and 12/31/09:

<http://www.dol.gov/ebsa/COBRA.html>

The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 that was signed into law by President Obama on 2/17/09 includes a subsidy of COBRA premiums for up to nine months for employees involuntarily terminated between September 1, 2008 and December 31, 2009. (This does not include employees who were terminated for “gross misconduct.”) The subsidy will pay for 65% of the COBRA premium for the employee and their dependents.

The bill also allows eligible employees who did not elect COBRA prior to the effective date (2/17/09), or who elected it and then dropped it, to now elect it. Employers are required to notify employees who were terminated on or after 9/1/08 of their ability to elect continuation of COBRA. The employee will have 60 days after the employer's notification date to enroll.

To read the U.S. Dept. of Labor's FAQs about this program, go to:
<http://www.dol.gov/ebsa/COBRA.html>

SPECIAL COBRA LAW FOR CONNECTICUT RESIDENTS AGES 62-65:

<http://www.cga.ct.gov/2004/rpt/2004-R-0004.htm>

If a Connecticut employee between the ages of 62 and 65 loses his/her job and the employee is eligible for COBRA, then the employer is required to extend COBRA coverage until the person reaches age 65, regardless of the number of months involved. (Usual limit for COBRA is 18 months.)

For information on this Connecticut law contact the Conn. Dept. of Insurance (800)203-3447.

CHARTER OAK HEALTH PLAN

<http://www.charteroakhealthplan.com/>

The Charter Oak Health Plan is Connecticut's health insurance plan for adults of all incomes who are ages 19 through 64. There are no income or asset limits to qualify, and pre-existing conditions are not a factor in determining eligibility. All plans cover medical care, prescriptions, and mental health and substance abuse treatment; none of the plans cover dental care. Premiums will range from $75 to $300 per member per month; the CT Department of Social Services will subsidize premiums for people below 300% of the Federal Poverty Level. The lowest premium, $75/month, is for individuals with household income under 150% of the Federal Poverty Level. Participating health plans include Aetna Better Health, AmeriChoice of Connecticut, and Community Health Network of Connecticut. For more information about premiums, deductibles and co-pays, go to www.charteroakhealthplan.com.

HEALTH REINSURANCE ASSN.

An association of HMOs and private insurance companies offers health insurance for Connecticut residents ages 19 through 64 and their eligible dependents, including people with pre-existing medical conditions. Health insurance plans include a low income plan for residents who meet income requirements and preferred provider and health maintenance organization plans that are not income based. For rate information, call (800)842-0004.

MEDICAID AND OTHER STATE PROGRAMS

www.dss.state.ct.us

There are several types of medical insurance offered through state programs:

- Medicaid/Title 19: www.ct.gov/dss/lib/dss/PDFs/medicaid.pdf

This guide was prepared in January 2009. For updated information or for additional resources, please call 2-1-1 or go to <http://www.211ct.org/referweb/>

Medicaid is for income and asset eligible individuals and families. Any family receiving TFA benefits will receive Medicaid. Individuals over age 65 or between the ages 21 and 65 with a disability are also eligible. Medicaid provides coverage for a comprehensive array of health services and medical needs including prescriptions, including some of the items not covered by Medicare. Families in this program are covered under a managed care plan and must use doctors within that plan. Individuals receiving this program are covered under a “fee-for-service” and must find doctors that accept Medicaid. Individuals apply at their local Dept. of Social Services (DSS) office.

- SAGA Medical (State Administered General Assistance):

www.ct.gov/dss/lib/dss/PDFs/saga98.pdf SAGA is for individuals with no dependent children who have very low income and assets. Individuals in this program are provided with a managed care plan and must use the doctors within that plan. Individuals apply at their local DSS office.

- Medical Spend-Down: www.ct.gov/dss/lib/dss/pdfs/SPNDOWN.pdf Medicaid Spend Down is for individuals with exceptionally high medical bills who are over income for the traditional Medicaid/Title 19 or Saga programs. Individuals can use medical bills to “spend down” their income to the “medically needy income level” and then be eligible for Medicaid or SAGA. Individuals apply at their local DSS office.

- Healthy Start: Healthy Start is a low income health insurance program for pregnant women. There is no asset test. Provides prenatal and all other medical services for pregnant women who are over income for "straight Medicaid" but whose income is at or below 250% of the FPL. Women in this program are generally enrolled in a managed care plan. Individuals may apply at a local community center or at their local DSS office. Individuals who choose to apply at their community center also have the option of receiving case management services. List of Healthy Start sites.

HUSKY A: www.huskyhealth.com HUSKY A is a federal and state managed care health insurance plan for uninsured children ages 18 and under who are U.S. citizens or legal permanent residents. Income must be at or below 185% of the FPL. There are no co-pays or premiums. There is no asset test for this program. For questions or to apply for the HUSKY program call HUSKY Infoline at (877)284-8759.

HUSKY A for Parents/Guardians: www.huskyhealth.com HUSKY A for Parents/Guardians is a health insurance program for those whose child is insured under HUSKY A and whose income is at or below 185% of the Federal Poverty Level. Must be a U.S. citizen or have permanent residency status for at least five years. (The five-year residency requirement does not apply to children on HUSKY A.) There are no co-pays for parents and caretaker relatives in HUSKY A. For questions or to apply for the HUSKY program call HUSKY Infoline at (877)284-8759.

HUSKY B: www.huskyhealth.com HUSKY B is for uninsured children ages 18 and under who are U.S. citizens or permanent residents whose income is over 185% of the FPL. This program has co-pays and depending on the families income may require premiums. For questions or to apply for the HUSKY program call HUSKY Infoline at (877)284-8759.

COMMUNITY CLINICS

Community-based health centers provide primary health care, including mental health and substance abuse services. Fees are sliding fee or reduced rate; some community clinics are free.

“FREE BED” FUNDS

Most hospitals in Connecticut have “free bed funds” to help low income patients pay their hospital bills. These funds can be applied to any hospital-generated bill, not just for inpatient hospital care. Since the funds are not a government program, but charitable donations administered by the hospital, it is likely that each hospital will have a different set of eligibility criteria for applicants. However, the law requires hospitals to tell their patients about the fund, and to have a written policy regarding how and to whom the funds will be applied. The best way to find out about these funds is to contact the hospital administration, billing office, or social work office. To read more about free bed funds, go to the CT Attorney General’s web document called “Law in Plain Language: Hospital Free Bed Funds.” Anyone having trouble obtaining information from a hospital about its free bed funds should call, write to, or email the Attorney General’s office. (Some hospitals, not all, require U.S. citizenship or legal residency for their free bed funds. Call hospital social work department or billing department for information.)

VETERANS – VA MEDICAL CARE HARDSHIP PROGRAM

If you are a veteran and your income has recently changed, you may qualify for enrollment in the VA Healthcare System even if it was denied previously based on household income. Personal circumstances such as loss of employment, sudden decrease in income, or increases in out-of-pocket family health care expenses could make you eligible for VA’s hardship determination. For additional information about this program, contact the VA Medical Center Enrollment Coordinator at 203-932-5711, ext. 3328. Or call the VA’s health benefits central number at 1-877-222-VETS.

The federal veteran medical center provides inpatient and outpatient medical, rehabilitative, and psychiatric services, detoxification and substance abuse treatment, and community based social services for any veteran with an honorable discharge and either 90 days of active duty served prior to 1980 or 24 months active duty served after 1980. Inpatient care is centralized at the West Haven Medical Center and outpatient services are offered at West Haven, as well as at the Newington Campus and community based outpatient clinics. The Errera Community Care Center offers community based mental health services including psychiatric and substance abuse outpatient and day treatment programs, psychosocial and vocation rehabilitation, transitional and permanent housing options, and employment services.

PRESCRIPTION DRUG ASSISTANCE

There are various ways to reduce prescription expenses including discounts, benefit plans, one time financial assistance, or on-going free meds. Most programs are for people who are uninsured and low income. For example, the Partnership for Prescription Assistance (888-477-2669) www.pparxct.org/ is a coalition of pharmaceutical companies that provides a single point of access to free or low-cost medications for income eligible individuals. For more information about prescription assistance programs, click here.

This guide was prepared in January 2009. For updated information or for additional resources, please call 2-1-1 or go to <http://www.211ct.org/referweb/>

“Big box” stores that have pharmacies, such as Walmart, CostCo, Sam's Club, Target, Stop and Shop, offer many generic drugs for a low price. Some are selling 30 day supplies for as low as $4, or 90 day supplies for as low as $10. (Not all medications can be purchased as a generic; also, not all generics are being offered at discount. Call the store's pharmacy, or look at the store's website, to see if the needed medicine can be bought at discount.

FamilyWize is a prescription drug discount program that offers cardholders discounts on drugs. To download a card, go to: <http://www.familywize.org/>.

For more information on prescription assistance see 2-1-1's Health Care Resource Guide or call 2-1-1.

MENTAL HEALTH CARE

General Counseling: If you have private insurance you can contact your insurance company and get a listing of providers in their network. The Mental Health Association of Connecticut also gives referrals to private providers.

2-1-1 does not list private mental health professionals. However, numerous community based agencies in the state offer sliding fee individual, marital, group, or family therapy. Check with the agency to see if they offer the specific type of counseling that you are looking for. Community based agencies that offer mental health care:

- Adults: List of General Counseling agencies.
- Adolescents: List of Adolescent/Youth Counseling agencies.
- Children: List of Child Guidance agencies.

Crisis Counseling: It may take time to get an appointment to see a mental health professional for non-crisis counseling. If you or someone you are concerned about is in immediate need of crisis intervention or feels suicidal, call 2-1-1 by dialing 2-1-1 on your telephone. Trained crisis intervention specialists are available to take your call 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. The 2-1-1 Specialist will connect you to immediate assistance.

Psychiatric Mobile Response Teams are teams of mental health professionals who will work with an individual in mental or emotional crisis by phone, or at community sites, homes, or hospitals. Phone lines are open 24 hours a day, 7 days a week but in-person intervention may have restricted hours.

RENT/MORTGAGE ARREARAGES

Eviction Prevention/Foreclosure Prevention Programs: EFPP offers assessment, mediation, and financial assistance for low income Connecticut residents experiencing a non-recurring, unexpected hardship who have past due rent or mortgage payments and who have received a notice to quit or notice of foreclosure. The amount of assistance is determined on a case by case basis; however, the maximum allowable grant is $1200. The amount of arrearage is one determinant of the amount of the grant; it is possible that people with very high arrearages may not be able to be helped. This is NOT an entitlement program. ELIGIBILITY: Must be experiencing a non-recurring, unexpected, documentable hardship; For financial assistance applicant must have received a notice to quit; People who are behind in rent but do not yet have a notice to quit are eligible for mediation services only; Must have income; Income must be at or below 60% of the state median income; Monthly rent/mortgage cannot exceed 60% of gross monthly income; Must be able to pay the next month's rent; Other restrictions may apply.

Mortgage Foreclosure Counseling: If you are unable to afford your current monthly mortgage payments, contact your lender right away to explain your situation. Also seek assistance from one of Connecticut's mortgage foreclosure assistance sites. Most of these sites are HUD Approved to offer mortgage counseling and loss mitigation services. Click here for a list of HUD approved Housing Counseling Agencies in Connecticut.

Foreclosure Scams: Beware of anyone that tells you that you can stop foreclosure by signing a document that appoints someone else to act on your behalf. You could be signing over the title to your property without knowing it. Before signing any document that deals with your mortgage, get the advice of an attorney, a HUD approved housing counselor, or a real estate professional that you know and trust. You can also call the Better Business Bureau or the State's Attorney to see if the business is trustworthy.

CASH ASSISTANCE

Temporary Family Assistance (TFA)

www.ct.gov/dss/cwp/view.asp?a=2353&q=305260

TFA/Jobs First is a 21 month time limited cash assistance program for low income/low asset families with dependent children under age 18. Employable TFA recipients must participate in a Department of Labor-managed job search, job training, or other endeavor while receiving assistance. The income limit differs by region because of the cost of housing difference, but is always a figure less than 100% FPL; Asset limit is $3000. ($9500 of car value is not counted towards assets.)

Temporary Family Assistance (TFA) Diversion Program

The TFA Diversion Program is for families who are eligible for Temporary Family Assistance (TFA) but the family's needs are short term and do not require ongoing cash assistance. The amount of assistance will depend upon the need, but will not exceed the total of three months of TFA for that family. The assistance is paid in one lump sum. The Diversion Program can help pay for shelter expenses (food, rent, security deposit, utility bills,) and work-related expenses

This guide was prepared in January 2009. For updated information or for additional resources, please call 2-1-1 or go to <http://www.211ct.org/referweb/>

(child care, tools, uniforms, clothing, transportation, car registration, insurance or repairs.) While in the three month Diversion Program period the family may also be eligible to receive Medicaid, child care assistance, employment services and food stamps. After the three month period the family may continue to be eligible to receive Medicaid for up to 24 months and Transitional Child Care Assistance for up to 24 months. Families must be income and asset eligible. Must have a job, a job offer that will begin within three months, marketable skills and have no barriers which would prevent the adult from finding and keeping a job, or have a good work history; Must have an emergency or family crisis that can be resolved within at least three months allowing family to remain independent of public aid or assistance; Must have expenses related to employment which family cannot pay. To fully understand the Diversion Program as it relates to welfare and time limits, call Statewide Legal Services at (800)453-3320. Apply for the diversion program at DSS offices and suboffices. (Same as TFA application sites.)

Community Based Temporary Financial Assistance Programs

There are agencies and programs throughout the state that may be able to help with emergency needs on a case by case basis. Call 2-1-1 to see if there is a program in your area.

Wartime Veterans: Soldiers, Sailors and Marines Fund

Temporary, emergency financial assistance to needy wartime veterans, their spouses, and their children ages 0-18. Must have honorable discharge; Must have served in at least one of the armed services, including National Guard and Reserves; Must have at least 90 days of active duty service, unless discharged for a service-connected disability, or for the full extent of the conflict in a combat or combat support role if the war campaign or operation lasted less than 90 days. For application and eligibility information go to: www.state.ct.us/ssmf or call (800)491-4941.

FOOD PROGRAMS

SNAP/Food Stamps: SNAP (Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program), formerly known as Food Stamps, is administered in Connecticut by the Department of Social Services. (DSS). The amount of SNAP benefit a household can receive depends on income, age and number of people in the household, and certain deductible expenses. Starting 7/1/09 the SNAP program income limit is 185% of the Federal Poverty Level (FPL) and there are no asset restrictions.

Households with an elderly or disabled family member can have income above 185%, but there is an asset limit of $3000 when income is over 185%; and the net income limit, after deductions for housing and utility allowances and medical expenses, must be at or below 100% of the FPL. SNAP/Food Stamp guidelines can be confusing, so anyone who is low income is encouraged to apply. No lien is placed on an individual's home.

People can pre-screen for SNAP eligibility and print an application at the End Hunger Connecticut web page: www.ctfoodstamps.org. To apply, DSS encourages people to submit applications by mail or to call and apply by phone.

Food Pantries: There are many food pantries in the state that offer assistance to families and individuals in need. Every pantry has different eligibility, hours, and availability. Food pantries are often run by local agencies and churches. They receive their food from state food banks, local food drives and private donations. Food pantries are a good option for individuals who have either run out of food stamps, or were ineligible for food stamps and need to supplement their groceries.

- List of Food Pantries.

Food Cooperatives: Food cooperatives are non-emergency food distribution programs. Participants purchase a food package of meats, fresh fruits, vegetables, and other grocery items and usually save at least 30% of the regular retail cost. Serve New England requires that individuals donate 2 volunteer hours anywhere in their community, but Angel Food Ministries does not. Both of these food co-op networks can accept SNAP/Food Stamps, but they are not limited to people who have food stamps. Food distribution is monthly; anyone can participate.

Soup Kitchens: Soup Kitchens are programs of churches and organizations that serve prepared meals to individuals and families in need. Most of these sites require little more than an individual walking in at the right place and time. To see hours and meals served at each soup kitchen:

WIC - Women Infant's and Children Program: The WIC program provides specific nutritious foods and nutrition education to eligible pregnant women, postpartum women up to six months regardless of how pregnancy ends; breastfeeding women up to one year after delivery; and infants and children up to their fifth birthday. Applicants who are income eligible (at or below 185% of the Federal Poverty Level) and at risk nutritionally receive monthly vouchers for the purchase of infant formula, milk, eggs, cheese, juice, peanut butter, and cereal. Recipients are re-certified every six months to determine if medical or nutritional risk exists. Fathers, guardians, and custodial relatives can get WIC for their children up to the child's fifth birthday.

School Breakfast and Lunch Programs

Most public schools in Conn. are participants of the National School Breakfast, Lunch and Milk Program, which offers free or reduced price school meals to children whose family income is at or below 185% of the Federal Poverty Level. To enroll, contact your child's school.

Click here to see if your child's school offers School Lunches or School Breakfasts.

Summer Food Program: Federally-funded nutrition program administered by the Connecticut State Dept. of Education serves free breakfast and/or lunch meals to children ages 18 years and under, and up to age 21 if disabled. Meals are served during the summer months when school is closed. There are no income or address restrictions for the feeding sites.

UTILITY AND HEATING PROGRAMS

Telephone Credit Program: Lifeline/Conn. Telephone Connection Assistance Program (CTCAP) <http://www.att.com/gen/general?pid=10201>

Lifeline is an FCC telephone credit program for customers receiving assistance from one of the following state or federal benefit programs: Care 4 Kids; Connecticut Energy Assistance Program (CEAP) and Contingency Heating Assistance Program (CHAP); CONNPACE; Food Stamps; Personal Care Assistance; Refugee Program; Rental Assistance; SAGA; State Supplement to the Aged, Blind or Disabled; SSI; Temporary Family Assistance; Title 19 Medicaid (including Husky and Healthy Start); Head Start; School Lunch Program.

The credit offers a discount of $30 on line connection, and reduces monthly charges by $9.00 per month for local telephone service. In addition, Lifeline customers receive an additional bill credit of $.85 for a portion of the Federal Subscriber Line Charge, and are exempt from the Universal Service Fund - Local and Local Number Portability charges.

Energy Assistance

- List of Utility Assistance application sites.

Conn. Energy Assistance Program: CEAP is a federally funded heating assistance program managed by Conn. Dept. of Social Services. Applications are taken and fuel deliveries ordered through local Community Action Agencies. CEAP provides financial assistance for payment of primary heat bill for households at or below 150% Federal Poverty Levels (FPL). (200% of the FPL if an individual in the home is elderly or disabled) Amount of assistance depends upon household income, and whether heat is included in rent. Assistance is paid for the client directly to the energy vendor, except in the case of renters whose heat is included in rent. This group receives a direct payment. There are asset limits. There is a crisis benefit for households who have exhausted their original basic benefit and who heat with a deliverable fuel. Program runs from November 1-May 1. Households must apply for the program every year. For more information, go to 2-1-1's paper on CEAP.

Contingency Heating Assistance Program: CHAP is a state funded heating assistance program managed by Conn. Dept. of Social Services. Applications are taken and fuel deliveries ordered through local Community Action Agencies. CHAP provides assistance to any household not eligible for CEAP, with an annual gross income between 150% Federal Poverty Level and 60% of the State Median Income. Households must pay for their heat; individuals whose heat is included in their rent are not eligible for this program. For more information, go to 2-1-1's paper on CHAP.

Operation Fuel: www.operationfuel.org/about_us.html

For the 2008-2009 heating season, Operation Fuel provides, through several different funded programs, financial assistance for households with income up to 100% of the State Median Income. Assistance is provided through a network of local fuel banks, and payments are made directly to vendors such as gas and electric companies and suppliers of deliverable fuels, such as oil or propane. Applications are accepted between 12/1 and 5/31. (Some fuel banks sometimes have money for dire, life-threatening emergencies in summer)

Matching Payment Programs: Matching Payment Programs (also known as Arrearage Forgiveness programs) are payment incentive programs offered by Connecticut's regulated natural gas and/or electric utilities to their income-eligible customers. (Gas and/or electric utilities owned and operated by municipalities do not offer matching payment plans). These plans help eligible customers maintain year-round service and pay down a delinquent balance by awarding credits toward a delinquent balance when the customer makes their agreed-upon scheduled payment. Although the specific requirements are different at each utility, one common qualification is that the customer must be eligible for energy assistance. Utilities may have a minimum arrearage amount and a minimum usage amount that a customer must have before they qualify. Some plans may be limited to customers whose primary heat source is supplied by the utility that offers the plan.

Energy Conservation Programs:

- List of Energy Conservation programs

Weatherization Program for CEAP/CHAP Recipients: CEAP/CHAP energy assistance recipients may be eligible for funds to pay for materials to weatherize their home or apartment. When clients are certified as eligible for CEAP/CHAP they will be mailed/given a card to fill out and return to request weatherization assistance. Possible weatherization services include heat loss analysis audits, installation of energy-efficient wall and attic insulation materials, storm windows; oil burner efficiency testing and modification; and other energy conservation improvements. Homeowners and renters are eligible for this service, but if renting, landlords must agree to pay between $30-$250 toward cost of materials. Funds are limited and priority is given to households with a child under age 6 or with someone who is disabled or age 60 and over. There may be a waiting list. A separate program exists for homeowners who need furnace repair or replacement. This program is also limited.

Weatherization Programs Offered by CL&P and United Illuminating

CL&P's "WRAP" program and UI's "UI Helps" program offer free weatherization programs for households with income at or below 60% of the State Median Income. May include: caulking; weatherstripping; ceiling, attic and sidewall insulation; water heater wrap; pipe wrap; fluorescent energy saving light bulbs; low-flow showerheads; furnace and refrigerator replacements. Services are determined based on income, kwh usage and the results of a needs assessment/audit performed at customer's residence.

Low Interest Energy Conservation Loan Programs:

www.chif.org/owner_borrowers/index.shtml#energy

Conn. Housing Investment Fund (CHIF) administers two state energy conservation programs. 1) Single Family Loans are available to homeowners (1-4 units) for the purchase and installation of cost-saving conservation improvements. Loans can be up to $15,000 for a maximum loan term of ten years; 2) Multi-Family Loans are provided to owners of apartment buildings, enabling both tenants and owners to save money through cost-saving energy improvements. Loans can be up to $2,000 per unit or up to $60,000 per building for a maximum loan term of ten years.

This guide was prepared in January 2009. For updated information or for additional resources, please call 2-1-1 or go to <http://www.211ct.org/referweb/>

Improvements eligible for loans include roofing, window replacement, siding, caulking and weather stripping, automatic set-back thermostats, insulation, solar systems and passive solar additions, heat pumps, furnace/heating system replacements.

ELIGIBILITY: For homeowner's program: Income at or below 150% of State Median Income; For apartment building owner's program: Must own building with 5 units or more. To apply for the loans contact CHIF at (800)992-3665.

Many towns also offer loan programs for home improvements. Call your town's Building or Community Development Dept. to ask about special incentives for home improvement and energy conservation.

Furnace Replacement Rebate Program is an incentive program for Connecticut households to replace their existing residential furnaces or boilers with more energy efficient models. The program is designed to provide rebates of up to $500 to households that purchase and install replacement natural gas, propane or oil furnaces and boilers between July 1, 2007 and July 1, 2017. Rebates will be available for replacement natural gas furnaces or boilers that meet or exceed Federal Energy Star standards and propane and oil furnaces and boilers that are at least 84% efficient. The amount of the rebate will decrease as income rises above a certain level. The Furnace Replacement Rebate Program has a retroactive start date of July 1, 2007. Furnaces or boilers purchased and installed prior to that date will not qualify for a rebate.

To apply for either the Home Energy Audit Program or the Furnace Replacement Rebate, call CT's Office of Policy and Management at 1-866-940-4676 and request an application. This application cannot be downloaded from the OPM website.

Utility Shut-Off Protection: Connecticut residents are protected from shut-off of their utility services, under certain circumstances. The following outlines the circumstances that apply for water, telephone, electric, and natural gas services.

Water: Households with a person who is seriously ill or who has a life threatening illness are protected from water shut-off as follows: If a doctor provides written verification that a person in the household is "seriously ill", the household is protected from shut-off during the winter moratorium period (Nov. 1-April 15). If a doctor's verification states that the person has a "life threatening illness", the household is protected from shutoff year round.

IF THE CUSTOMER'S WATER IS ALREADY SHUTOFF: If your water company is a regulated water company, the protection is the same and the company would have to turn you back on. If it is an unregulated water company, the company is not required to turn the customer back on, but many water companies do try to "mirror" what the regulated companies do. Generally, the municipal water companies are unregulated. To find out if your water company is a regulated utility, call the DPUC at (800)382-4586.

Telephone (Land-Line Only) : State regulations state that residential land-line phone service cannot be terminated for non-payment while any resident is seriously ill, as certified to the phone company by a doctor. However, the customer must agree to a payment arrangement for the unpaid balance AND keep the account current while paying off the unpaid balance.

Electric and Gas: In Connecticut, utility companies that provide natural gas and/or electric service are limited by law as to when and under what circumstances they are permitted to shut off a customer's service. Life-threatening Shut-offs: Electric and gas companies may not shut off or refuse to turn on utility service at any time during the year if a lack of service is life-threatening, regardless of the amount of money a customer owes.

Winter Moratorium/Winter Protection: Protection for low-income persons from heat source shut-offs that are not life-threatening is available from Nov 1 to May 1, under certain circumstances, depending on whether the company provides electric or gas service. Northeast Utilities and possibly other companies also protect hardship cases from NON-heat utility shut-offs. Gas companies cannot terminate service to "hardship cases" during the period 11/1-5/1. However, they can refuse to reinstate service for "hardship" customers if 1) there has been a shut off between 5/2-10/31, and 2) if their household had service maintained during the previous moratorium period because of "hardship" status, AND 3) if since 5/1 the customer has not paid the lesser of $100, the minimum payments due under the payment arrangement, or 20% of the amount owed the gas company as of the date of the shutoff. For a detailed explanation of what these limits are and how this affects your electric or natural gas service, see the pamphlet "Rights of Utility Customers", published by the Legal Assistance Resource Center of Connecticut.

http://www.larcc.org/pamphlets/utility_energy/rights_of_utility_customers.htm

Payment Arrangements

If you are facing a shutoff you should contact your utility company immediately and explain your situation. You may need to send in proof of unemployment or other documents in order to support your claims. You may also need to agree to a payment arrangement. If you cannot afford the payment arrangement they are offering, do not agree to it! If you agree to an arrangement that you are not able to keep, the utility companies do not have to offer you another payment arrangement. If your income is low, contact Statewide Legal Services at (800)453-3200 to see if they can help with getting the utility company to offer you a payment arrangement that you can afford. If you are not eligible for Statewide Legal Services assistance and still feel that the payment arrangement the utility is offering you is not fair ask to speak to a supervisor at the utility company and ask for a list of social service agencies that can help you complete a "budget sheet" for a below-budget arrangement. Last, if none of these options works, and you still feel that you should be offered a lower payment arrangement, contact the Dept. of Public Utility Control (DPUC) to see if they can assist. (DPUC's decision is final.) Call (800)382-4586 to contact the DPUC.

BUDGETING AND MONEY MANAGEMENT

Consumer Credit Counseling Service/Money Management International (CCCS)

www.creditcounseling.org: (800)208-2227. CCCS is the only nonprofit consumer credit services organization in Connecticut. CCCS provides confidential financial counseling, budget counseling, HUD approved housing counseling and debt management services. CCCS's Debt Management Program negotiates with creditors on behalf of clients to establish payment plans. Credit card and other consumer debts are consolidated into one monthly payment; the CCCS service fee is included in this monthly payment. Service fee can be waived in cases of hardship. Other CCCS services, such as housing counseling and budget counseling, are no fee.

"Credit Repair" Scams: If you have fallen behind in your bills you may be tempted by businesses that promise to "repair your credit." Very often these businesses take your money and do nothing to help your credit, ultimately making your credit situation even worse. To find out if a debt management company is legitimate, call the CT State's Attorney's office or the Better Business Bureau and ask. The Attorney General's office has two papers on this topic:

LEGAL ASSISTANCE

Statewide Legal Services: www.slsct.org
(800)453-3320

Central office for statewide legal aid provides information and legal representation for very low income individuals and families on issues related to government benefit programs; consumer credit; employment; tenant rights; special education; discrimination; divorce, custody and child support. Eligible clients are linked with the nearest legal aid office for legal representation, when appropriate. (Civil cases ONLY.)

Lawyer Referral Services: Those who are over income for Legal Aid can call a local lawyer referral service for referral to an attorney. The first 30 minutes of consultation with the referred lawyer costs $25-35. Lawyer referral services are for individuals who are over income for legal aid or are involved in a case that legal aid does not handle.

Discrimination Assistance:

CT Commission on Human Rights and Opportunities (CHRO) is Connecticut's state agency that investigates charges of discrimination due to sex (including pregnancy and sexual harassment), race, religion, ancestry, national origin, age, marital status, disability, genetic information, mental disorder or sexual orientation. If you feel that you were laid off or terminated on the basis of one of these protected rights your complaint generally must be filed under oath within 180 days of the alleged violation to the CHRO. For information about filing a discrimination complaint with CHRO, call them at (800)477-5737 or go to their web site: www.state.ct.us/chro.

U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) is the federal agency that investigates discrimination in employment. For information about filing a discrimination complaint with the EEOC, call the Boston Area Office, (800) 669-4000 or go to their web site: www.eeoc.gov.
